Description

This is a natural fibre mixture extracted from coconut husk. It make an excellent natural floor and bedding substrate for adult beetles. It has water holding properties to keep the atmosphere in your containers moist and humid as the animals prefer.

This product is a dehydrated "brick" which is then rehydrated by adding 1 litre of ordinary tap water. 1kg becomes 8 litres of terrarium substrate.

Please note this material is for adults only and not for breeding pairs as it does not contain any nutrients for developing larvae
