Description

150 individual gloves

Easy storage pouch

Directions for use:

Adult and larva aren't dangerous to humans but we can be to them. We touch lots of surfaces that might contain fungus, mites etc and could transfer those to your animals.

These disposable gloves have been sourced to be an economical and convenient way of handling the animals and their materials. Use of our gloves protects your animals from transfer of disease.

Latex/rubber medical gloves (available separately) are a better solution for a job that takes longer (e.g. searching for eggs). Latex gloves take longer to put on, come in different sizes and are a bit more expensive.

Materials:

Polyethylene
